

MONKEY'S ADVENTURES

We present you „Monkey's Adventures". This game introduces a brand new hero into the virtual world – Titus, a crazy and smart monkey. In this game we have a nice monkey under control. On its way Titus meets rebellious robots. The story started when a crazy scientist, professor T'Alent, invented a machine that sucks griminess out of your head and produces a substance called Grimonium.

Professor's mechanical assistant stole containers of Grimonium and the trouble begins. Professor's T'Alent assistant built a mechanical army. The monkey is not unarmed: it uses laughing gas, tosses coconuts, it can roll like a ball and shake its arms. Friends it meets on its way give it helpful advices.
